Zoom Tip...

When a screen is being shared with you, one good way to see whoever is talking and the screen is to use 'Side-by-Side mode'. To do this, choose 'Speaker view' and then, when the screen share starts choose 'Side-by-Side mode' under 'View options' at the top of the screen. You can also move the partition between the two sides of the screen to make them bigger or smaller.

Note from the Elders

I remember Colin once saying that one of the verses in the Bible he finds the most challenging is the one that says that Jesus "went about doing good" (Acts 10:38). Why is it so challenging? Because, if Christians are called to be like Jesus, – and we are – then we too should be going about doing good (though our "going about" may need to be in a virtual sense!).

Paul wrote to the Galatian church that "as we have opportunity, let us do good to all people, especially to those who belong to the family of believers." (Galatians 6:10).

If ever there was a time when we "have opportunity" surely it is now. We can do good by texting, phone calling, praying and in a myriad of other ways. As Paul says, we have a particular responsibility towards our fellow-believers, and our thanks to David Dowling seeking to co-ordinate that care. However, it is not to be exclusively for the church that we seek to do good: let us be good neighbours, and Christians should not be slow in responding to Government appeals for help eg with the NHS Supporters scheme.
